BRITISH DEFENCE PLAN APPROVED

LABOUR'S MOTION DEFEATED

GOVERNMENT RETAINS FAITH IN LEAGUE

Labour's motion of censure in the House of Commons, according to reports from London to-day, was defeated by a vote of 424 to 79. The censure was in respect to the Government's defence plans, which envision the expenditure of more than £10,000,000 over last year's defence estimates, largely to be used in strengthening the country's Air Force.

Sir John Simon, explaining the Government's policy, said that they had not departed from their trust and belief in the efficacy of a League of Nations in which every major power was represented, and that they were labouring still for conditions which would allow the return of Germany to Geneva.

Women who scattered pacifist pamphlets and shouted against the Government's defence policy, were expelled from the Strangers' Gallery during the debate.

Rapid Progress with Wells Film

FIRST SETS SHOT

For several months preliminary work on the film "Whither Mankind?" adapted by H. G. Wells from his book "The Shape of Things to Come," has been proceeding at Elstree. This month the unit will move to the Worton Hall Studios, Isleworth, which London Film Productions have rented while their new studies are being erected.

The film "Whither Mankind?" calls for a large amount of special photography and effects, intricate models, and imaginative constructional problems, most of which work was quite unknown in this country before this production. Special carpenters' and plasterers' shops, projection apparatus, and a foundry had to be built, and assistants trained in this technique by Ned Mann, the Hollywood special effects expert, before any actual shooting could be done. Effects unknown even in American studios have been perfected, it is stated, and will be used for the first time in this film.

It will result in a small band of experts being available to British studios who have been trained in this new branch of the motion picture industry.

An imaginative production dealing with the future of mankind must necessarily be made under SPRING MILLINERY conditions of strict secrecy. Every technician and workman on the picture has been sworn not to divulge the problems being solved in the studios, and no photographs of the sets or machines will be issued until after the

HUGE SHELTER BELT

Washington, Feb. 28. One of the most natonishing experiments of the experimental New Deal will begin this spring when the government starts planting a row of trees from the Canadian border to the Texas Panmandle, near the Mexican border.

About 4,000,000 seedlings will be planted as a starter. When the project really gets going-by 1986, the Forest Service nopes-300,000,-000 little trees will be planted annually over a period of ten years or more until there are 3,500,000,-000 to 4,500,000,000 of them in a sturdy line 1,500 miles long and 100 miles wide.

The proposed shelter belt, ita sponsors declare, will afford invaluable protection to almost the whole country against drought, hot, soilblasting prairie winds and erosion.

The Forest Service has only 1,000,000 to start the huge programme and comparatively few seedlings to plant, but it expects addotopma; appropriations and rapid development of nursery stock.

SHOULD GROW

Sceptics have asked how four billion trees can be made to grow in a chronic drought area. The Forest Service points out that the zone "lies in the western marginal zone of the most humid east and does not contact the strictly arid west."

Specifically, the zone lies within the region of 18 to 25 inches of average rainfall in North Dakota; 20 to 25 inches in South Dakota; 15 to 25 inches in Nebraska; 20 inches in Kansas; and about the same in Oklahoma and Texas.

"That trees can and do grow within the zone designated for tree planting clearly is manifest by the large acreage of shelter belts already growing there, many of which have withstood the drought modern woman, that she is certain- of the last years with remarkable ly likely to seize upon it with de- success and have produced abundant seed which will be used now-in raising nursery stock for the future of shelter belt planting," Chief Forester F. A. Silcox said.

Only the sturdiest of trees will be used. GAVE ME BACK HEALTH!"

Nurse's Glowing Tribute To

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS. Among the most enthusiastic advocates of the tonic, blood-building, nerve-restorative merits of Di Williams' Pink Pills have always been members of the nursing profession. They usually speak out of their own porsonal experience, as does Nurse W J. Lyons, whose home is at No. 137 Broadway, Chicopee Falls, Mass.

"I was without colour and did not have any strength," states Nurse Lyons. "My condition alarmed my family. I had severe headaches and nervous spells, could not get restful sloop and was tired and listless all the time. I was short of breath and lost weight. I tried many remedies but nothing helped me until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They gave me back my health. My blood was built up, I regained my strength and my colour returned. I can certainly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the system." If you are over-tired, nervous, depressed, run-down, don't hesitate to build up your blood at once with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Physicians' and hospital tests prove that these pills increase the haemoglobin and red blood corpuscles in a remarkable speedy way. When your system be-comes refreshed, strengthened and revitalized by the new, red blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills help to create you lose your nerviness, hendaches, backaches; energy returns and you gain confidence, cheerfulness and strength. Begin to get well with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to-day, Your chemist can supply them.

TRIBUTE TO MR. J. L. MCPHERSON

A daily average attendance of children at the three playing grounds under the management of the Hongkong Children's Playground Association of 3,360, representing a total of nearly one and a quarter million during the year, was reported at the annual meeting of the Association held in the P.W.D. Board Room last evening.

Hon. Sir Thomas Southorn, President, was in the chair, and in course of his address referred to the grievous loss the Association would suffer in the departure of Mr. J. L. McPherson, its Hon. Secretary. The Children's Playgrounds now in existence, he said, wore visible and, he hoped, permanent memorials, of the debt the Children of Hongkong owed to Mr. McPherson.

RUMJAHN AT HIS BEST

E. L. H. Shute gave a disappointing account of himself against E. C. Fincher in the first round of the open singles tennis championship yesterday, and after the first four games was not in the same street as the K. C. C. champion, eventually losing in straight sets 6-3,

His great weakness however was on the backhand and this continually let him down. Shute made one or two smart BIG passing shots from this hand, but it was not strong enough to permit him to stay a rally. On the forehand Shute drove strongly, and early in the match beat Fincher

The Shute twins, prophesied by Home critics as the second Doherty brothers, are to-day given their opportunity to show Hongkong what they can do in doubles tennis. They are meeting the Rumpahn cousins, Colony champions, in the second round of the champion ship, and a record crowd will probably endeavour to sur-Australia round the court.

This will be the first time the twins have played together in competitive tennis in Hongkong, and from their viewpoint it is rather unfortunate they should have to meet the champions.

Spectators, however, will not go to the H.K.C.C. expecting the boys to win, but it will be extraordinarily interesting to see how they shape against such players. My own impression of the youngsters is that they play much better In any case the novelty of the encounter ensures an unusually interesting spectacle.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

By W. E. McKenney

For some it is hard to appreciate the place that bridge plays in our social life. Men and women travel hundreds of miles across the coantry to play in a bridge tournament and, if they win, their only reward is to have their names engraved on CAWNFORE EUCHING one of the jintional trophies. No ckuu cash prizes and no betting are permitted at national tournaments.

I visited the Terrace Club in New York the other night and was pleasantly surprised to see the arra- of silver cups displayed in the clubroom. The players of this club have made a very fine record for themselves. It is one of the newer clubs and the younger players represent it.

Recently it added to its collection the national team-of-four and the national mixed pair trophies. Morrie Elis and Sylvester Gintell, two members of this club, also won for themselves a trip to Florida, in a bridge tournament recently.

Here's one of the hands played by Morrie Elis. He held the South cards. It will show you how alert and accurate these youngsters are on the play of the cards.

The Play

Against the six no trump contract, West made the natural opening of the five of clubs, the six was the three, and declarer won with ed the ace of clubs and now made a nice play by leading a small heart toward dummy's jack. When West refused to win the trick, the jack held. This practically marked West with three hearts to the king-

COMPANY'S TELEPHONE ANNUAL MEETING

Prospects of Hongkong soon being able to communicate by radio-telephone with the outside world were referred to by the Hon. Mr. Gordon Mackie when addressing shareholders of the Hongkong Telephone Co., Ltd., at its annual meeting to-day.

Mr. Mackie mentioned that the Canton Government's radio telephone station enabling contact with Shanghai and other parts of China would be functioning in October of this year, and stated that the prospect of Hongkong thus having an outlet with important centres in China and beyond was thus within measurable distance of being fulfilled.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Mackie suggested that representations should be made by the Company to the Hongkong Government for permission to establish an Investment and Exchange Fluctuation Reserve.

Addressing shareholders, the Chair. man said:-Before proceeding with the ordinary business of this meeting, I desire, on behalf of your Board, to place on record an expression of profound regret at the recent death of Mr. J. P. Warren. The late Mr. Warren joined the Board of this Conpany in 1930 and served thereon until shortly before his death; during the period of office on your Directorate, Mr. Warren brought to bear much sound advice in the deliberations of your Board and his intimate knewledge of business; and affairs proved invaluable, not only to this, but to the many other Companies with which he was associated. Rapid Progress with Wells Film

For several months preliminary work on the film "Whither Mankind?" adapted by H. G. Wells from his book "The Shape of Things to Come," has been procoeding at Elstree. This month the unit will move to the Worton Hall Studios, Isleworth, which London Film Productions have rented while their new studios are being erected.

The film "Whither Mankind?" calls for a large amount of special photography and effects, intricate models, and imaginative constructional problems, most of which work was quite unknown in this country before this production. Special carpenters' and plasterers' shops, projection apparatus, and a foundry had to be built, and assistants trained in this technique by Ned Mann, the Hollywood special effects expert, before any actual shooting could be done. Effects unknown even in American studios have been perfected, it is stated, and will be used for the first time in this film.

It will result in a small band of experts being available to British studios who have been trained in this new branch of the motion picture industry.

An imaginative production dealing with the future of mankind must necessarily be made under SPRING MILLINERY conditions of strict secrecy. Every technician and workman on the picture has been sworn not to divulge the problems being solved in the studios, and no photographs of the sets or machines will be issued until after the release.

Shooting on the first sets for this film has been in progress for the last two weeks, and in the opinion of William Cameron Menzies, the director, the results have justified the care spent in the preparations.

Trick photography is covered by Harry Zech, who was head cameraman on "Hell's Angels," and Hal Rosson will photograph the other sequences. Vincent Korda is designing the sets and, as stated, Ned Mann is responsible for the special effects. Frank Wells, the son of H. G. Wells, is one of the designers.

The cast has not yet been announced.

Some of the greatest engineering firms in the country have given_advice_and_lent_assistance and equipment. Sets too large for the studios will be constructed on exterior sites, and Vincent Korda has already completed his draw-

Plans for a British production have been discussed in New York by Wallace Beery and Jeffrey Bernard on behalf of Gaumont-British, and, subject to the former's approval of the story, he will come to London in the early summer to make the film at the Shepherd's Bush Studios.

Under his existing contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Wallace Beery is permitted to make one film away from Hollywood when he desires to.

He has long wished to appear in a British picture.

TEADERS will doubtless like to know "what will be what" in the way of hats when spring comes knocking at our door. The general trend takes an upward and forward direction, where millinery is concerned. Interest centres in crowns that lovingly espouse the back of the head, rising to a forward plunge over the eyes.

Strangely enough, the hats worn with the ultra-modern clothes are distinctly influenced by the bonnets of the Elizabethan gallants. These are the little draped velvet tonies, above which nod half a dozen tiny ostrich plumes; adaptations of the beret in cotton velvet, with feathers

Washington, Feb. 28. One of the most astonishing experiments of the experimental New Deal will begin this spring when the government starts planting a row of trees from the Canadian border to the Texas Panmandle, near the Mexican border.

About 4,000,000 seedlings will be planted as a starter. When the project really gets going-by 1936, the Forest Service nopes-300,000,-000 little trees will be planted annually over a period of ten years or more until there are 3,500,000,-000 to 4,500,000,000 of them in a sturdy line 1,500 miles long and 100 miles wide.

The proposed shelter belt, its sponsors declare, will afford invaluable protection to almost the whole country against drought, hot, soilblasting prairie winds and erosion.

The Forest Service has only 1,000,000 to start the huge programme and comparatively few seedlings to plant, but it expects addotopma; appropriations and rapid development of nursery stock.

SHOULD GROW

Sceptics have asked how four billion trees can be made to grow in a chronic drought area. The Forest Service points out that the zone "lies in the western marginal zone of the most humid east and does not contact the strictly arid

Specifically, the zone lies within the region of 18 to 25 inches of average rainfall in North Dakota; 20 to 25 inches in South Dakota; 15 to 25 inches in Nebraska; 20 inches in Kansas; and about the same in Oklahoma and Texas.

FINCHER OBLITERATES E. L. H. SHUTE

S.A. RUMJAHN AT HIS BEST

(By "Veritat").

E. L. H. Shute gave a disappointing account of himself against E. C. Fincher in the first round of the open singles tennis championship yesterday, and after the first four games was not in the same street as the K. C. C. champion, eventually losing in straight sets 6-3,

WEAK BACKHAND

Shute was plainly disconcerted by these shots which retarded the bound of the ball and stopped him from making his top spin drives effective. His great weakness however was on the backhand and this continually let him down. Shuto made one or two smart passing shots from this hand, but it was not strong enough to permit him to stay a raily. On the forehand Shute drove strongly, and early in the match beat Fincher with some very good placements. Nevertheless Fincher won far Lott more easily than was generally anticipated, and it is highly doubtful if anybody can stop from reaching the quarter-final. Tennic Kwok showed reputations and past achievements meant nothing to him when he played Birdar Rumjahn, former champion. He took the Indian on his merits, hold him to 6-4, 6-1. Kwok's driving was as good as any Rumjaha has met in local Orst set that the Chinese actually led 4-3 before Rumjahn took the initiative and himself demonstrated how effective

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

For some it is hard to appreciate the place that bridge plays in our social life. Men and women travel hundreds of miles across the country to play in a bridge tournament and, if they win, their only reward is to have their names engraved on one of the national trophics. No cash prizes and no betting are per- culouso mitted at national tournaments.

I visited the Terraco Club New York the other night and was pleasantly surprised to see the array of silver cups displayed in the clubroom. The players of this club have made a very fine record for themselves. It is one of the newer clubs and the younger players represent it.

Recently it added to its collection the national team-of-four and the national mixed pair trophics. Morrie Elia and Sylvester Gintell, two members of this club, also won for themselves a trip to Florida, in a bridge tournament recently.

Here's one of the hands played by Morrie Elis. He held the South cards. It will show you how alert and accurate these youngsters are on the play of the cards.

The Play

Against the six no trump contract. West made the natural opening of the five of clubs, the six was played from dummy, East played the three, and declarer won with Hikawa Maru (starts from Kobe) Sat., 28rd March. the jack. South immediately cashed the ace of clubs and now made a nice play by leading a small hearttoward dummy's jack. When West refused to win the trick, the jack held. This practically marked West with three hearts to the king-

> Now the spade suit was started and-the-four-spade-tricks-cashed; East discarding a diamond and West letting go a club. The ace of diamonds was played and then
